

6.10 Attach and Detach

Attach and Detach

- It is not always necessary for Blue Prism to open an application that it needs to interact with, this would be the case if an application had already been opened manually or as part of a system start-up, before Blue Prism attempted to interact with it.
- If an application is already open and running on the screen, Blue Prism can use a Navigate Stage to 'Attach' to the application window.
- Navigate Stages can also be used to 'Detach' from an open and running application.

Object Diagram with Attach Stage.

Navigate Stage properties with Attach Action.

Visual of Navigate Stage Attaching to an application.